

COAL MINERS OF AFRICAN CARIBBEAN HERITAGE...

WE NEED YOU!

Are you a former coal miner?
Are you of African Caribbean heritage?

Is a member of your family a former coal miner
of African Caribbean heritage?

If YES, we need to speak to you.

Nottingham News Centre CIC, an award-winning heritage research organisation, is collating interviews of former African Caribbean coal miners who worked in one or more of the UK coal mines (underground or on the surface).

Interviews can be over the phone but preferably in person.

(For inclusion of deceased black miners – a photograph is required and reflections/memories from family members are most welcome).

The memories and experiences of black miners are valuable sources of knowledge and learning for young people in the future as well as a path to enrich the narratives of UK industrial history.

Our research findings, including portrait photographs, are part of a forthcoming exhibition at the National Coal Mining Museum for England and will tour other participating exhibition venues.

Research findings will also be available through our online archive at www.blackcoalminers.com

All credits will be included. Thank you!

CONTACT

Norma Gregory (MA)

Project Coordinator & Historian

✉ norma.gregory@blackcoalminers.com

www.NottinghamNewsCentre.com

www.BlackCoalMiners.com

DIGGING
DEEP